

THE TOUGALOO ART COLONY

14th YEAR

ART

2010

A WEEK-LONG INDULGENCE IN THE VISUAL ARTS
FOR ARTISTS, ART EDUCATORS, ART STUDENTS

HISTORIC TOUGALOO COLLEGE
JACKSON, MISSISSIPPI

JULY 11-16, 2010

TOUGALOO ART COLONY
Tougaloo College
P.O. Box 578
Tougaloo, MS 39174

NON-PROFIT ORGANIZATION
PERMIT NO. 5
U.S. POSTAGE PAID
TOUGALOO, MS 39174

Relief Printmaking • Sam Burston – Georgia

Participants in this workshop will experience the exciting, versatile and astounding capabilities of linoleum block printing.

Oil Painting • Pat Walker Fields – Mississippi

Problem solving in painting from life will be addressed in this workshop. Great emphasis will be placed on proper observations and accurate values. Lecture, critiques and demonstrations will be daily. Pat explores the importance of design, value control, color control, edges, and paint quality.

Mural Painting for Teens • Rik Freeman – Georgia

Teens of all ages (13 - 90teen) can learn the art of creating murals with Rik Freeman. Participants in this workshop will discover what it takes to create a mural from start to finish with the expert guidance of narrative painter Rik Freeman.

Designing & Creating an Artist's Web Site • Sarajane Helm – Colorado

A versatile and creative artist, Sarajane will help you design and publish a web-site that best reflects you and your gifts. Bring your own lap-top, air card, and digital file of your works (visual artists, literary artists, musicians, etc). You will soon be in the business of promoting what you do. This class will also utilize the publication Business of Professional Art by Sarajane Helm.

Pottery Winnie's Way • Winnie Owens Hart – Virginia

When does a vessel become a comfort zone? Participants will not only learn the answer to that question in this workshop, they will also create their own vessel sanctuaries under the expert guidance and demonstrations of Winnie Owens Hart.

More Digital Dreams: The Layers • Carmen Hathaway – Canada

Delve deeper still into your dream...come explore layering and myriad techniques to illustrate depth, dimension and pure magic of your personal vision. Working knowledge of computer functions necessary -- the intuitive interface of the imaging software used will excite your imagination.

Hot Art Exhibit:
July 12-15, Owens Health & Wellness

TOUGALOO ART COLONY
Tougaloo College, P.O. Box 578, Tougaloo, MS 39174 • 601-977-7839 or 601-977-7743
Fax 601-977-7714 • art@tougaloo.edu • mwatson@tougaloo.edu • www.tougaloo.edu/artcolony

ARTISTS / ART EDUCATORS

Sam D. Burston • Georgia Relief Printmaking

Sam Burston perfected his artistic skills under the direction of Dr. Lee Ransaw, former director of the art department at Morris Brown College, Dr. Jenelsie Walden Holloway at Spelman College, Lev Mills, former professor of art at Clark Atlanta University, and current professor of the art at Spelman College, and studied at the Atlanta College of Art. His choices of media include painting, printmaking and mixed media.

Many have termed the artist's style of painting as the "stained glass effect." However, with his variety of styles, it is difficult to confine his talent.

The most distinctive characteristic of his styling is the use of primary colors and bold line. There are several artists that have influenced him including such masters as Charles White, Jacob Lawrence, Romare Bearden, Matisse, Monet and an artist with whom he shares the same birth date, Pablo Picasso.

Sam was among five guest artists during the 2003 Designer Show House in Atlanta and has exhibited works in a variety of shows and festivals throughout the southeast including, The Apex Museum, The Arts Exchange and the Tifton Georgia Fine Arts Festival. In 2006 he was selected as guest designer artist for the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra's annual fundraiser. Just recently he was featured in a one-man show at the historic Lucy Craft Laney Museum of Black History in Augusta, GA from January thru March 2009. His motto is "Use your God given talent so that others may see its wonder." www.sdburstonart.com

Rik Freeman • Georgia Mural Painting for Teens

Freeman who attended The University of Georgia; Athens, GA and Savannah State College in Savannah, GA, began his professional career as an Artist/Muralist in Washington, DC in 1989, where he has painted numerous murals throughout the metropolitan area. His most recent commissions include Shaw Rhythms, for the new Washington Convention Center, Washington, DC, and Arl@200, at the Arlington County Courthouse Arlington, VA.

While known more for his public commissions, Rik has a steady exhibition history of his works on canvas, having been featured in numerous group shows in galleries, museums, and cultural centers, including The Sumner School Museum, and HR-57 Center for the Preservation of Jazz and Blues, both in Washington, DC. His work is also included in many private collections.

Rik is the recipient of numerous awards and honors, most recently with a merit-based grant from The Franz and Virginia Bader Fund, Washington, DC. He has received fellowships from the DC Commission on the Arts, and was nominated for an Outstanding Emerging Artist Award. www.rikfreeman.com

Sarajane Helm • Colorado Designing and Creating an Artist's Web Site

Unsure of the best way to present your work on the web? Need a hand? Are you an artist or entrepreneur who has no time to update your website or market your work? I know how to help! You can hire me at reasonable rates to do it for you, or to provide the instruction you need to be able to do it yourself. Learn to use blogs and websites to showcase your work!

Webpages

Graphic and web design that focuses on YOUR style is best done with personal attention to details. Artists and musicians need more than just a "working" page; with my expertise you can make sure yours is beautiful, informative--and brings attention to your business. Don't settle for generic templates and presentation. Get fast, effective help with logo design, business cards and brochures, web pages and more. Make changes in design or information as needed, eliminating large print lots and waste.

The Business Of Professional Art by Sarajane Helm

Artists in all media who yearn to earn using their creative abilities and wanting to become successful entrepreneurs will benefit from reading The Business of Professional Art by Sarajane Helm. The entire 30 column series first appeared in Belle Armoire magazine (Stampington & Co.) between 2003-2008. Each is packed with information and tips on how to present your art to the buying public, and issues that concern all creative professionals starting with what you call the business, licenses and taxes, advertising, promotion and display, other ways to use your existing talents and work to generate more revenue. You'll also find information about websites, blogs, and other means of using the internet to promote your business.

Pat Walker (Pat Walker-Fields) • Mississippi Oil Painting

Pat Walker-Fields is recognized as a gifted contemporary Southern painter. Her highly representational portraits, still-life(s) and landscapes are masterful exercises of chiaroscuro, the manipulation of light and dark. Pat has honed her talent from which her particular "language of art" has emerged.

The contrast of light and its absence, evocative of Rembrandt's use of chiaroscuro, is the defining component of her style. By means of it, she aims "to create mystery and emotion." These elements are the real subjects of her work. Her classic representations are windows opening to domestic worlds. The views evoke tales of life in imagined homes and times. Her representation of the human face is a view to the inner world of the subject's personality: the unarticulated life-quest, heroic, tragic, wise, at-risk, on the cusp of accepting inevitable challenges and the resigned contentment of latter years. Her faces cannot be forgotten. They linger teasing from the viewer's mind the story that explains; or searching for a name that has the power to keep safe what the viewer experienced.

Pat was in the Oil Painters of America and Richeson75/Still Life show. Awards include Joan Mitchell Foundation; The Andy Warhol Foundation, Visual Arts Contemporary Arts Center, PBS, VAA to name a few. Pat has been featured in Southwest Art, AMERICAN ARTIST, Gallery's&Artists of the South, Delta Magazine, American Art Collector and in the hardback issue of Jack Richeson, International Richeson Still Life 2008. <http://patwalker-Workshops.com>, <http://PatWalker-Fields.com>.

Winifred R. Owens-Hart • Virginia
Pottery Winnie's Way

Winnie Owens-Hart, a renowned ceramics artist, has employed two assistants, seven high school apprentices, and dozens of members of the Arlington, Virginia community to collect and create over 1,200 handmade decorative memory bricks to line Arlington's Gateway oval walkway. Images on the bricks serve as visual reminders of a neighborhood's heritage period. The creation was made possible through funding by the Arlington County Neighborhood Conservation Program and is the first in the program's history to include works of Public Art.

Winnie Hart has over three decades of national and international exhibitions. Her work is in the collections of the Smithsonian, universities and private collectors throughout the United States.

This artist/art educator also has extensive experience in program design and curriculum development in foundations studies, art education, ceramics and three-dimensional concepts; and experience in the development, implementation, and supervision of ceramic cottage industry projects in America and developing countries.

Professor at Howard University in Washington D.C., since 1988 to present, Winnie Hart is graduate and undergraduate ceramics instructor; coordinator of the department's ceramics and foundation studies programs until 2001; and instructor of three-dimensional design until 1999.

Hart is founder of the Ile Amo Research Center, which is dedicated to world aboriginal ceramics.

Carmen Hathaway • Canada
More Digital Dreams: The Layers

Since the mid 1980's, Carmen Hathaway's visual arts career has evolved through experiences of exhibition, teaching, operating a retail gallery, and creating innovative original works in acrylic painting, art glass, clay and digital media. Her most recent body of work, Crucible, created with the generous support of the Manitoba Arts Council, is an exploration of connections and new direction in my art.

Meshing style, technique and content of diverse media has resulted in increasingly focussed thematic structure and content.

Hathaway's publications include her original digital illustration, Release, purchased, and published as cover art for Volume #27-1, 2007 of The Canadian Journal of Native Studies.

An image of her abstract painting In Depth, purchased by National Geographic School Publishers, is featured in the Abenaki folktale, The Girl and The Chenoo, in the Inside educational series, released 2008; and digital illustration, Grand Mother, published in the Arts & Entertainment section of the Jackson, Mississippi newspaper, The Clarion Ledger-Herald on July 14, 2008. The piece was also featured in the online version of the article. abart@mts.net, www.AbenakiArtworks.mb.

A PEEK INTO 2011

TEAM WORKSHOP ARTISTS:
LIONEL LOFTON AND ANDREW THOMPSON
"MEGA PAINTING WORKSHOP"

DRAWING, PAINTING WITH PASTELS, CERAMIC GLAZES, PRINTMAKING, CREATIVE WRITING STUDIO and more...

Join the list of prestigious artists/instructors of the historic Tougaloo Art Colony!
NOW accepting proposals for studio instructors Art Colony 2012

Contact: jgilbert@tougaloo.edu • cc: jmmaberry2@aol.com

